The Geographical Record includes items of current interest.

Geographical Publications is an annotated bibliography that records practically every new book and article of geographical importance.

Of the annual publications recently inaugurated by the American Geographical Society there are now available The Andes of Southern Peru by Dr. Isaiah Bowman, Director of the Society, and The Frontiers of Language and Nationality by Leon Dominian.

The magazine and the annual monograph, free of charge, are among the privileges enjoyed by Fellows of the Society. Teachers and others interested in geographical affairs are invited to become Fellows. Full particulars regarding Fellowship will be sent on request.

The annual dues for Fellowship are $10.00. The yearly subscription price of the Review, which is published monthly, is $5.00; single copies are 50 cents each. Teachers who are Fellows of the Society or subscribers to the Review receive the Journal of Geography free of charge.
